CPA DEATH TOLL 52

Canadian Pacific Airline's Flight 21 exploded and crashed last Thursday afternoon on its way north from Vancouver, killing all 52 people aboard. Five Whitehorse residents were among the dead. Seven other northern families suffered losses. It was the first fatal crash on the northern run.

The DC-6B was fifty miles north of Ashcroft B.C. and thirty miles west of 100 Mile House when eye witnesses said there appeared to be an explosion, the tail section dropped off and the plane plummeted into the ground. A pall of smoke was spotted by B.C. Forestry lookouts and a small aircraft dispatched to the scene minutes later. The crash occurred just before five o'clock.

At 4:40, about 15 minutes before the crash, the captain radioed that he was changing course slightly to avoid turbulence. Moments later, the stricken aircraft made three desperate "Mayday" calls to the Prince George airport. Then silence.

The plane left Vancouver at 3:30 p.m. and was scheduled to land at Prince George at 5:20. It had not yet picked up other connecting passengers at Fort St. John.

News of the disaster spread quickly in Whitehorse and anxious families here kept long distance telephone lines jammed for several hours. CPA officials and RCMP officers contacted next of kin as soon as the passenger list had been verified from Vancouver.

Strangely intact among undamaged trees, wreckage of DC6B as seen from the air.

RIVERBOATS UP IN FLAMES

From the Whitehorse STAR, Friday, June 21, 1974

A SPECTATOR runs to aid firemen as they move to a new position, but there's no hope for the old, tinder dry, boats. Whitehorse STAR photo.

Hundreds of people stood on the banks of the Yukon River yesterday morning and cried as the riverboats CASCA and WHITEHORSE were engulfed by flames.

The two grand old ladies of the White Pass and Yukon Route fleet caught fire at approximately 10 a.m. and were reduced to two large heaps of ashes less than two hours later. The dry wooden ships burned like tinder, with flames rising more than 100 feet in the air within minutes and giving off an intense heat.

Fire officials still have found no cause of the fire, and say that investigations are continuing. Firemen were still hosing down the red-hot coals late yesterday, and no inspection was expected for at least 24 hours, according to Yukon fire marshal Tom Nairn.

Shortly after the fire call went out, police helped three young people off the CASCA. The trio, in their early twenties and from Ontario, had been living on the boat for a week. They were taken in to custody and questioned by police until late Thursday afternoon before being released. No charges were laid and police, along with fire officials, are seeking another explanation for the fire.

The blaze began on the CASCA, spreading rapidly to the WHITEHORSE, less than 10 feet away, and threatened to engulf a storage shed owned by White Pass as well. Firemen, after overcoming initial difficulties with a lack of water, managed to douse the fire from going beyond the bounds of the riverboats. The pair of stately old steamboats were two of five left from a fleet that plied the rivers of the Yukon during the first half of this century. The WHITEHORSE, built in 1901, was the acknowledged Queen of that fleet. Ironically, she was built on the very spot that she finally died on yesterday.

The three remaining members of the White

Pass fleet are the KLONDIKE, situated in town just up the river from the two that burned yesterday; the TUTSHI, settled in Carcross; and the KENO, now a national historic site at Dawson.

Within minutes of the fire alarm, hundreds of people had gathered at the final resting place of the two old sternwheelers. Dozens of old-timers who were here when the boats were actually in operation recalled memories to quiet bystanders.

Roy Minter, an employee of White Pass who had long lobbied for the preservation and restoration of the neglected boats, was at the scene too, looking slouch-shouldered and defeated.

"...I've always thought of Dawson as the center of the Gold Rush" he said sadly, "and of Whitehorse as the center of transportation during those days. These boats were such an integral part of all that. Today they're gone and the Yukon just lost a little of its soul."

$2 BILLION PROJECT TO FLOOD CITY

Details of plans of an Eastern Canadian industrial empire to change the entire map north of the B.C. border:

Included in the plans of the giant Frobisher Ltd., for the $2 billion enterprise - which would dwarf the huge Kitimat and Ungava development - were:

Mammoth dam on Lac Laberge and creation of a lake, 100 to 200 feet deep and covering thousands of square miles.

Moving of the entire town of Whitehorse with its huge Orient route air base.

Relocation of the towns of Carcross and Champagne. (All three centres would be flooded by the artificial lake.)

Changing the route of warborn Alaska highway. Rerouting of the White Pass and Yukon Railway.

Construction of the three big hydro plants in the vicinity of Kluane Chilkoot Pass and Teslin. Estimated out - 500,000,000 horsepower - makes this the largest integrated power yield in the world.

Creation of a deepsea port on Taku River or north of Haines, Alaska, in Yukon territory.

INDOOR BASEBALL - ITS ALL THE RAGE

The details are sketchy but here's what we know so far...

The inaugural game was played on Saturday, November 24, 1906 between the "B.Y.N." and "Police A" teams. The win went to "Police A" with the score board showing 20-13.

While the STAR dutifully announced each up-coming game and faithfully published all results; we never did state the actual rules. From reading through the write-ups we know they played in a "large hall" at the NORTH Star Athletic Association. Somehow, the walls of the hall were incorporated as part of the "field". As we see in the picture here, they used a narrow baton-like bat and a rather large ball. The public was always "cordially invited" and there were "seats for ladies in the balcony."

The sport was so popular, games were scheduled each Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evening. (And in 1906 that schedule included games played on Christmas Eve and Boxing Day too - now that's dedication!)

1901 News from the Whitehorse Star

Five New Boats

To Be Built By The W.P. & Y. Route

150 To 200 Ship Carpenters Will Be Employed In The Work

Mr. G.C. Mellott is authority for the statement that the management of the W.P.& Y. Route have purchased five steamers from the Canadian Pacific, used formerly on the Stickene river by the C.P.R., and that they will be brought to Skagway and taken down for shipment to White Horse where they will be rebuilt with a view to the needs of river navigation. Hotline & Co., of Seattle, have the contract for the construction of the new boats and will have from 150 to 200 ship carpenters here inside of a month to commence active operations. The boats purchased by the W.P.&Y. Route are the Ogilvie, Hamlin and McConnell, which are now at Wrangel, the Dawson, now on the ways at Vancouver, which, though completed has never been launched and the Walsh, which has been lying in the Fraser river since the failure of the route up the stickene river to the Yukon. The purchase of these boats give the W.P. & Y. Route absolute control of fifteen first class river steamers, and will practically place the whole of next season's transportation business to the interior in its hands.

Captain Sanborn will superintend the construction and see that they are put up in accordance with contract. The contract calls for their completion by 1st of June next.

A new freight tariff sheet will also be issued in a short time, which will do away with the present system of charges by weight and measurement, and in lieu thereof all freight will be classified and rated according to the grade and quality of the goods.

Among contemplated improvements for the rapid handling of freight a large derrick will be erected on the wharf at White Horse for loading and unloading machinery and other heavy material.

If it becomes necessary another addition to the immense warehouse will also be built, and as soon as the ground thaws sufficiently to allow work to be commenced an electric light plant will be installed for the purpose of lighting the depot, wharf and warehouses.
