CPA DEATH TOLL 52Canadian Pacific Airline's Flight
21 exploded and crashed last Thursday afternoon on its way north from Vancouver, killing all 52 people aboard. Five Whitehorse residents were among the dead. Seven other northern families suffered losses. It was the first fatal crash on the northern run.The DC-6B was fifty miles north of Ashcroft B.C. and thirty miles west of 100 Mile House when eye witnesses said there appeared to be an explosion, the tail section dropped off and the plane plummeted into the ground. A pall of smoke was spotted by B.C. Forestry lookouts and a small aircraft dispatched to the scene minutes later.
The crash occurred just before five o'clock.At 4:40, about 15 minutes before the crash, the captain radioed that he was changing course slightly to avoid turbulence. Moments later, the stricken aircraft made three desperate "Mayday" calls to the Prince George airport. Then silence.The plane left Vancouver at 3:30 p.m. and was scheduled to land at Prince George at 5:20. It had not yet picked up other connecting passengers at Fort St. John.News of the disaster spread quickly in Whitehorse and anxious families here kept long distance telephone lines jammed for several hours. CPA officials and RCMP officers contacted next of kin as soon as the passenger list had been verified from Vancouver.Strangely intact among undamaged trees, wreckage of DC6B as seen from the air.

MOOSE CALF 'ADOPTS' MAN AS ITS MOTHER

Curt Mintz huddled in the bush with his two dogs for 20 minutes waiting for the cow moose to attack.

"There's no way you can come between a cow and a calf and live," Mintz said in an interview Monday. "I'd rather meet a grizzly."

But there was no attack. Instead, Mintz became the adopted mother to a three-day-old female moose calf that now lives at the Yukon Game Farm on the Takhini Hot Springs Road.

Mintz came upon the moose on June 2 while strolling through the woods about four kilometres from his cabin on the Alaska Highway near Whitehorse.

"I heard it first, and I thought it was a bear, so I just dived down and grabbed the two dogs and held them.

"I knew whatever it was didn't hear me, 'cause it was making too much noise.

"When I saw it was calf sitting there, I was more worried. I thought, 'I came between a cow and a calf, I'm in really big trouble,' I stayed down there for about 20 minutes.

"I circled around the thing and saw it was a calf moose. So then I snuck up on it and within 10 feet, it heard me. It started crying just like a little baby."

That's when he realized it was alone.

The calf was probably a twin and left behind by its mother, Mintz said. If the mother had been shot, he said, the calf would have stayed with the mother and the hunters would have gotten it.

"It wouldn't have lasted overnight. There's no doubt about it. It's like Grand Central Station out there for coyotes."

He stroked the calf, grabbed it, put it on his shoulders and marched four kilometres back to his cabin with it.

"After about maybe an hour or two, it figured I was its mother. If I walked away from it, it would start crying."

The calf wasn't afraid of people, he said. It liked his dogs, his friend's cat, and gave his guests big moose-lip kisses.

It would cry to eat, lay down, and go outside because it wanted Mintz to be closer to it.

It was three days old, so it couldn't follow him far. It would walk for a while, then stop and cry when Mintz continued.

"I entertained thoughts at one point in time of keeping it," Mintz said. But he decided it would be better for the moose if it went to the game farm. Danny Nowlan, owner of the Yukon Game Farm, is an old friend of Mintz's father.

Nowlan has had a bull moose for about 10 years, said Mintz, and he hasn't be able to find a cow.

So, this could be the beginning of a Yukon moose family bred in captivity.

AN ATLIN ROAD AGENT

Masked Highwayman Holds Up a Stage in Real Western Style and Gets $3.55

Atlin has had a genuine stage holdup. The work of the robber was shockingly crude. His method, or rather lack of it, demonstrated that he was not an expert in the profession, and that he was thoroughly in want of experience.

It happened Monday evening, Sept. 16, about 8 o'clock. Walker's stage was enroute to Pine City from Atlin when a masked highwayman stepped out in the road and at the point of a Winchester commanded the driver to halt. The command was obeyed and the passengers were ordered to get out of the stage and line up with their hands in the air. Four of the passengers, Messrs. D. Patterson, C.H. Dewitt, J. Dillon and Mrs. Nelson took to the woods. The others were Driver Walker, Photographer Draper, T. Shirley, W. Waters, J. Emmett and Miss Maud Biggs.

They had considerable money about them, but most of them managed to lose their purses in the stage before leaving it. The highwayman's order to them, therefore, to throw their money in a pile on the road resulted in only $3.55 being contributed to the road agent. This he sulkily picked up, and backing into the brush, he disappeared.

The police were immediately notified and vigorous search made for the daring robber, but up to late reports he has not been caught.

THE 'DISCOVERY WELL'

Little was it thought when the original "Discovery Well" was drilled in 1928 in the Fort Norman area that, through the exigencies of war, the oil that flowed from there would be piped to Whitehorse, a distance of 595 miles, and refined here. The transportation of men and equipment over a road more than a thousand miles long was one of the major obstacles encountered and overcome. Camps, warehouses and platforms were constructed and pre-fabricated, barges, tugs assembled and Camp Canol was established.

In June 1942 the U.S. Engineer troops arrived in Waterways, a small frontier town northeast of Edmonton, and the men of the navigation system in Norman Wells on the Mackenzie River. By the summer of 1943 the water system had been well established, in the meantime another route from Dawson Creek, B.C. to Whitehorse on the Alaska Highway had been opened. This pioneer road was completed in November 1942 and converted into an all-weather military highway by October 1943.

As the transportation systems came into operation crews started from Whitehorse and Norman Wells to construct the Canol access road at both ends. This road was completed in December 31, 1943 and in the following February (1944) the first weld was made in the 595-mile pipeline. On April 30, 1944 the official opening of the refinery was fittingly commemorated.

A Freak Snowslide

Everybody in this section of Yukon Territory and in Posey County, Missouri, knows Mr. J.P. Whitney of Whitney & Pedlar. (He always says, "You'll have to show me!") Mr. Whitney has ever been up-to-date in his efforts to make White Horse a modern city with fire-proof buildings, wider streets and plenty of sidewalks. Last November he conceived the idea of adding an extra chimney to his big building and, regardless of freezing weather, engaged a man to do the work. The chimney was built in symmetrical form but, owing to the fact that the weather was not propitious, the mortar failed to stick to the bricks, and become frigid and wholly at home with itself.

Previous to the building of the chimney Mr. Whitney had dug a well on the side of the building where the new chimney was erected and this was covered over with boards.

Last Monday ended the checkered career of the new chimney. A large mass of snow had accumulated behind the smoke avenue and on that day decided to move to terra firma. On its way down it picked up the chimney and the whole landed on top of the covering over the well. The boards were light and snow, bricks and mortar went through to the bottom, nothing remaining except the cavity through which it all passed.

Mr. Whitney will rebuild his chimney, but he will not do it in cold weather, and is now giving out the story that he has the only well in the Yukon Territory with a chimney in it.

Grand Palace Hotel

Another First-Class Hostelry Opens Its Friendly Doors to the Traveller

The fine three-story building that has been so rapidly rushed to completion by Mr. Racine, on Front Street, opposite the new post office building, opens its doors today for the reception of guests, and will be known as the Grand Palace Hotel. This immense building is admirably situated at the highest point on the lake side of the street, and commands a grand view of the lake and surrounding country. The guests' rooms on the second and third floors, about 20, are all large, well lighted and ventilated, high ceilings, with new and clean furnishings throughout. The floors are double-boarded, inlaid with building paper, as are also the walls, which will make the building a very warm and comfortable one during the most severe weather.

The hotel proper will be under the management of mesdames Lane and Taylor, who have, during the past three months, made a splendid reputation as hostesses by the first-class manner in which they have conducted the Palace Hotel of this city. The traveller who has once been a guest at the latter house will surely find his way to the Grand Palace on his return to Bennett and learns that these ladies are in charge of the place.

The bar in connection with the hotel is controlled by R.B. Alverson & Co., well known to a great majority of our citizens, and their reputation is a good guarantee that nothing but the best of goods in their line, served by the most dexterous and polite mixologists, will be offered to the patrons of this department.

With such people in all departments of the new hotel it cannot fail to become a very popular house.
