City Resident Makes Polar History

Whitehorse resident Martyn Williams has become the first Canadian to reach both poles of the earth using only skis and a small dog team.

Williams, 44 and his three companions on the International north Pole Expedition were picked up Saturday after six grueling weeks of fighting severe temperatures, driving winds, and tough, unpredictable sea ice.

All four members of the group are South Pole veterans. Australian Mike McDowell 44, accompanied Williams to the South Pole in 1990. Norwegian brothers Sjur, 27, and Simen Modre, 29, traveled to the South Pole in 1991.

Many people have reached both poles without mechanized assistance. Until now, only Briton Robert Swan traveled from South to North.

The group is now resting at the advance base on Ellesmere Island before they return tonight to Resolute Bay, N.W.T.

Tough terrain slowed progress for the first few weeks. However, the expedition traveled more than 25 kilometers a day in the last couple of weeks to make up for last time.

They had to reach the pole by May 12. After that date, warming temperatures cause fog and broken ice, which makes air pick-up impossible.

"But part of it was because they just really wanted to get out ...

TAKHINI SPRINGS

Photographer E.J. Hamacher has favoured us with the following description of the Takhini hot springs, the property of Messrs. W.A. Puckett and S.A. Simmons. The springs are distant from Whitehorse about 30 1/2 miles, 14 to the mouth of the Takhini river, 15 miles up that stream to the springs landing and one and a half miles from the river northward to the springs.

The springs are located in a beautiful spot almost level but sloping gently toward the river. The water boils up from a bowl-shaped basin, overflows it at one edge, and runs over the sloping ground until it reaches a deep canyon through which it makes its way toward the river. At the foot of this canyon is a large crescent shaped slough or lake which has an outlet to the river.

The volume of water which flows from the spring would fill a six-inch pipe and its deposits below the springs show large quantities of iron and lime. The temperature of the water is about 120 degrees, Fahrenheit.

Whitehorse Fire Damage. Six men salvaging what they can from the ashes of the May 23, 1905 fire.WHITEHORSE
SWEEP BY FIRE

Whitehorse was swept by fire early this morning and is now a mass of blackened smoking ruins. Loss $300,000.

The single fire engine at a critical moment gave out, and quickly the best part of the city became involved in ruin.

The fire takes the city, extending from the post office to the telegraph office and crossing the tracks, sweeping the railroad, the White Pass depot, three of the best hotels and dozens of the smaller buildings.
