DAWSON CRIMINAL RE-CAPTURED
AFTER A YEAR'S HUNT

SWAN HARRISON, AN INSANE PATIENT ARRESTED IN THE NORTHWEST TERRITORIES

Swan Harrison, who escaped from the Northwest Mounted police at Selkirk on the Yukon a year ago, has just been captured by members of the same efficient force at a point thousands of miles distant. Harrison has been taken a prisoner in the Northwest territories.

A telegram has been received by Major Wood at Dawson telling him of the capture of Harrison.

When Harrison escaped at Selkirk he was being taken out of the Yukon to New Westminster, B.C. as an insane patient. He had been arrested and convicted at Dawson some time before for stealing, had become insane while in prison and was transferred to the lunatic ward.

While the steamer was lying at Selkirk Harrison made a leap from the boat, and landing partly in the water walked ashore, scrambled away up the bank and ran into the woods before he could be overtaken. He and a number of other lunatics were in charge of Corpl. Stewart on the trip up the river. A short search was made for Harrison, but he could not be found, and the boat proceeded with the remainder of the party.

From traces obtained it is believed he went down the Yukon river and escaped by way of St. Michael or Nome.
He is said to be from the States, but how it is that he should wander over into the Northwest Territories is scarcely understood. It was thought at first from the point at which the fellow turned up he must have taken a chance at the famous Edmonton trail and gotten through, but the idea is scarcely credited.

YUKON'S GREAT SHOWING

Yukon Territory's contribution to the Empire and Allied cause in this war is nothing short of magnificent.

Despite the fact the region is remote and the people are engaged in struggling against primitive and exceptionally obdurate and severe conditions in pioneering, they have more than held their own in the war game.

Between four and five hundred men have gone from this territory direct to the war, meaning practically ten per cent of the population of Yukon are under arms in Europe. Were the whole of the Dominion, with its eight million people, to contribute in like proportion to Yukon there would be 800,000 men, or just twice as many enlisted from Canada today as there are. ...

The generous and patriotic spirit of Yukon deserves to be known throughout the Empire and Allied realm. If all the Empire were contributing in like proportion in men and money the assembled wealth and armies today would be far greater than they are. But these matters will adjust themselves.

Yukoners will continue to do a mighty share and uphold the tradition that the sons and daughters of the North are excelled by none in loyalty to the nation and to humanity.

Headlines in History

“SQUATTERS TO GO NEXT WEEK!”

Cleaning up Whiskey Flats

NOW. Rotary Park features a children's playground and lots of nice green grass to relax on. Whitehorse STAR photo.

THEN. Whisky Flats was old cars and old shacks surrounded by junk. Whitehorse STAR photo.

Lest anyone should bristle and get ready to do battle, let it be pointed out that the headline appeared in the early 1950's and it referred to Whiskey Flats, now known by the less colourful title of Rotary Park. But even with the announcement in headlines it was still ten years before Whisky Flats was cleaned up.

The flats, a legacy of the wartime boom years, was a conglomeration of bits and pieces of old American army buildings, tar paper shacks and log structures with oil drums and wrecked cars drawn around them. Situated along the river bank, there were actually three "flats" - used largely by transients who hauled their slops out to the river and their water back. Whiskey Flats in the south end of town, Sleepy Hollow in the north and Moccasin Flats in the middle.

There was minor crime and the odd murder but on the whole Whisky Flats, outside of the boozing, was a fairly quiet place and it had a number of solid citizens who claimed they couldn't find anywhere else to live. They paid no taxes and they were on White Pass or crown property.

Whitehorse city fathers tried for years to coax the squatters to leave. They made deals with the territorial and federal governments for land in the outskirts of town for squatters to move to. But no sooner would one squatter move out than another would move in. This process of moving squatters did start the out of town developments of Porter Creek and other "ribbon development" areas to bloom, but Whiskey Flats continued.

Then came the building of the first Robert Campbell bridge and the opening of the sub-division of Riverdale. All those 9 to 5 commuters driving to and from downtown Whitehorse didn't like the view from the bridge, so the pressure was on. But it wasn't until 1964 that the big cleanup took place. That year, the Chamber of Commerce headed by businessman Erik Wieneke, along with companies and private citizens, volunteered their labour and equipment and day after day hauled thousands of tons of junk and buildings away.

Work To Be Resumed

On The Anaconda, Rabbit Foot and White Horse Group Mines For Which Large Sums Have Been Offered and Refused

The excellent returns from Messrs. Graingers & McIntyre's properties has given a fresh impetus to copper mining in the White Horse district, and in the course of the next two or three weeks a force of men will be put to work on the Anaconda mine, which has already had sufficient development done to prove it equally rich as the Copper King.

The group of mines comprising the Anaconda, Rabbit Foot and White Horse, is owned by Messrs. J.P. Whitney, A. P. Benton, Ole Dickson, W.A. Pucket, Charley Ward and O'Neil. Of these the Anaconda is the furthest advanced in development, 135 feet of tunnel having already been run, besides numerous cross-cuts and several shafts to a depth of 20 feet.

Last June $100,000 was offered and refused for the Anaconda and five weeks ago an offer of $150,000 for the Anaconda and Rabbit Foot was also declined.

The lode on which these claims are located shows an average width of 75 feet, and assays from picked ore have given values as high as $258 per ton.

At the Anaconda there are now about 100 tons of ore on the dump, but the owners have decided not to ship any of it at present, and will wait for the erection of a smelter close at hand which has every indication of being an accomplished fact during the coming summer.

The rezoning will configure the boundaries of two proposed three-hectare Rural Residential lots to be released for public sale.
